Untitled Descriptive Project

Sarah Warren

Abstract

I'll write one eventually

Introduction

White nationalist activity is on the rise, but we still don't have a good idea of who these people are

What data we do have struggle to account for the modern digital age

Twitter data are good, but unreliable because of account bans and ToS

So what: it's hard to characterize the modern white nationalist movement as a political faction, a political party, a social movement, or a terrorist group. But we're observing a group of people who enjoy every social advantage behaving and speaking in a manner resembling a repressed group. Why?

The StormFront Dataset

How was it collected?

What's in it?

Descriptive statistics across forums (# of posts total, average per-day, average per user)

What are White Nationalists Saying?

Text analysis (ideally, for competitive victimhood)

Sentiment/tone analysis

Topics (via Structural Topic Modeling)

Most common uni- and bi-grams

Passive vs. Active voice

When are White Nationalists Talking?

Topics over time(?)

Post length and frequency over the observation period